LECTURE SERIES INTERNATIONAL LAW IN PRACTICE

INTERNATIONAL INVESTMENT LAW IN PRACTICE

Lunch talk with Dr. Jan Erik Spangenberg, Latham & Watkins LLP

Do lawyers practice international law? What kind of disputes are they dealing with?

Dr. Jan Erik Spangenberg will shed some light on these questions and give some insights on his life as an international lawyer.

Dr. Spangenberg is an associate in the International Arbitration Practice Group in the Hamburg office of Latham&Watkins. He practices international arbitration and litigation, with a particular focus on complex commercial and investment treaty arbitration. Dr. Spangenberg's arbitration and public international law expertise includes advising and representing clients in relation to international commercial arbitrations under ICC and DIS rules, investment treaty arbitrations under ICSID, UNCITRAL, and SCC rules, bilateral investment treaties (BITs) and multilateral investment treaties, including the Energy Charter Treaty (ECT), public international law, and export control and international economic sanctions issues.
